Block Party

Spring has sprung with bold color blocking. From colorful brights to tone-on-tone palettes and even natural textures combined for surface interest, color blocking is sure to be the life of the party this season.

Step Into Spring at ENKWSA

LAS VEGAS—Designers are stepping into Spring with a colorful flair. Key trends stood out with panache at the ENKWSA show, held at the Sands Expo & Convention Center July 27–29. Shoe designers continue to explore color blocking, animal prints and ethnic designs, as well as flirty new floral prints, for the season ahead. Also key were natural elements as a part of a “back-to-basics” trend and the “flatform,” which literally evened out this season’s shoe fashions. Here is a look at the freshest looks of the season.

Au Naturel

Go au naturel with shoes this Spring—but don’t fret about sacrificing style. This season’s shoes take natural to a whole new level. Think stacked cork, woven grasses, braided raffia, tonal woods, fun leathers and more.

On the Level

A hybrid of sorts, the “flatform” tops the shoe list this season. In between a wedge, a platform and a flat, the flatform has a subtle but stylish incline. Walk in comfort and with high style in the latest wardrobe addition for Spring.

Floral Frenzy

Florals have blossomed this Spring. With both bright and soft floral prints being shown on just about every type of shoe, this trend offers a fun and girly flair. From ladylike heels to everyday flats and fun sandals, florals have it covered.
